DEDICATION

A man of quiet reserve, extreme dedication, and deep devotion to the students of Westfield State College;
Mr. William Kirk stands among us as a strong figure on an apathetic campus.
This dedication is merely an expression of gratitude for the many hours of service which he has unfailingly given individuals and groups since his arrival in 1970.
His awareness of society's problems and efforts to solve them serves as an excellent example to every graduate as he faces the difficulties of a larger world.

"We must live together as brothers or perish together as fools."

Martin Luther King

"Nothing would be done at all if a man waited till he could do it so well that no one could find fault with it."

Cardinal Newman

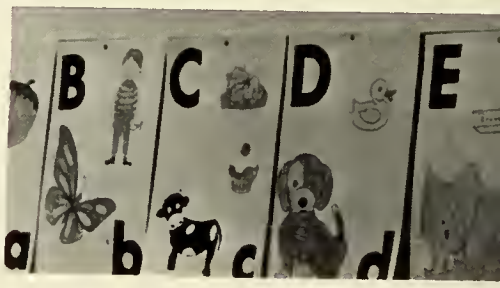
"To err is human. I'm uncomfortable around gods."

WHAT IS A KRAZILIGN? WELL,...

A Krazilign or Crazy Line as it is better known to all Tekoa staffers is a vehicle for carrying the theme throughout the book. The editors feel that many of the serious events and humerous incidents are lost from a traditional yearbook because they are not significant enough to merit a page of coverage. We have, therefore, instituted this line which, as you will see, is filled with candids, names, news, jokes, quotes, and anecdotes. It is our sincere desire to present as much of this year as is humanly possible. We think you will enjoy the Krazilign . . . you will also discover something new each time you look at it, that is, if you are observant!!

You've got to do something crazy once in your life!

PRIVATE



There isn't anything a special events committee member won't do in the mad rush before . . .

Dr. Robert Randolph

Our esteemed president, Dr. Robert L. Randolph has a history which might surprise a few of you dedicated Westfield State College students. Remember the great Carriage Days, or are you familiar with "Poor Richards," the new late night place to be?" Well back at good ol' DePauw University in "Would you believe?" Greencastle, Ind. Dr. Randolph frequented "the Fluttering Duck." This hot spot was located in the center of campus and it proved to be the gathering place for many of the young fraternity boys. Aside from such extra-curricular activities, Dr. Randolph also pursued the more serious hobby of playing the bass fiddle. Many of Harvey's employees will be pleased to hear that you are not alone, Dr. Randolph worked in the cafeteria earning one meal per hour. Following graduation he joined the Navy and later resumed his education at the University of Ill. which was located in the town of Urbana.

W.S.C. WINS BERTH IN NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Soccer Team Breaks Four School Records! As the W.S.C. Soccer Team captured the N.C.A.A. New England Regional title and placed third in the country in Division III of the N.C.A.A., they also broke four school records along the way. Dennis Dugas and Allie Goncalves, this season's high scorers, helped break the record for total goals and the record for total assists. The great defense work by Mike Walker, Kenny McCarron, Carl Steele, Steve Mancini, and Gary Rodrigues aided the team in capturing the title for most wins in a season. Billy Lownds single-handedly broke the school record for most consecutive games played.

Captain Nancy Page led the Women's Tennis Team in a 6-3 season. The very capable team defeated all of the State Colleges in their division. Freshman Mary Jo D'Arcy, the team's number one single, went to Yale for the New England Inter-Collegiate Tennis Tournament sponsored by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

W.S.C. Men's Tennis Team members: John Morizio, Tony Delaporte, Tom Quesnel, Zigmund Sieczkowski, Mike Kelly, Bill Gregarian and Tom Damoulakis exhibited their skill by completing their regular season with a 6-1 record. John Morizio as the team's number one single went to the Massachusetts State College Conference finals.

Led by Coach Mrs. Hank Stone and Offensive Capt. Janet Rushton, and Defensive Capt. Sue Morisee, the Women's Varsity Field Hockey Team had a record of 6-6-2. They won second place in the State College Tournament. Most of the games were played away, but a choice few were played on the new turf. Under the new coach, Mrs. Stone, the girls learned new techniques in conditioning and a different viewpoint in the game. The team triumphed over Springfield, Central Connecuit, Wesleyan, University of Rhode Island, Mount Holyoke, and the University of Bridgeport. Even with the lack of equipment the team did a great job and all of us are looking forward to a better season next fall.

Opening the season with nine losses out of eleven games, the OWLS knew they had to pull together to make it through the rest of the season. With the help of Coach Matt Zunic and assistant coach Fran Friguglietti, the OWLS won all but three of the remaining thirteen games. Tommy Parks was the proverbial star of the team. As highest scorer of the season, Tommy also was chosen for the State School Conference All Stars.

The 1974-1975 Women's Basketball team was coached by newcomer Judy Urban and her assistant Patty Sullivan. Both varsity and junior varsity teams had whole new squads. Among the road games, the team played were Mount Holyoke, Wesleyan, Holy Cross, North Adams (all of which Westfield won), and Keen State, Smith College, U. Mass. and Springfield. The leading players in the varsity squad were junior — Lou Ann Symchk with an average of 16 points per game. Linda Quintile was the top player on the J.V. team along with Sheila Boranski, the leading rebounder. According to Patty Sullivan, "height was lacking on the team, but that was easily made up for by speed. The team contained great talent and when they return next year they will have an even stronger team."

At season's opening the team's attitude was optimistic; a talented group of Freshmen combined with a solid nucleus of veterans held the makings for a Conference Championship Team. Unfortunately as the season progressed illness and injury hampered key individuals. The team placed second in the Mass. State College Conference and had a winning season of six wins and two losses. Co-captain Mike Beard, the first individual W.S.C. Cross Country runner to qualify for the Nationals was incapacitated due to a sudden illness.

Money! Money! Money! You wouldn't think running would be affected by money problems, but it was indeed! The indoor track budget was zero. With staunch team effort, two successful dances were held raising nine hundred dollars which was enough to carry the team through a successful 7-5 season. Seven individuals qualified for the New England Championships, the largest group ever from Westfield.

The ten very energetic and lively girls that are seen at the basketball and soccer games contribute greatly to team support through their never ending spirit. Their enthusiasm even carried them as far as Illinois to cheer and encourage our soccer players. The Cheerleaders are important not only because they ignite the interest of the fans, but because they reflect a very positive image of the College Community.

"Grace Under Pressure"

Joseph Pappalardo

The Westfield State College Women's Varsity Gymnastic Team completed the 1974-1975 season with an impressive record of nine wins and three loses. Team members Ileen Jarger, Barb Tierney, Laurie Drake, Nancy Clarke, Donna Knipe and Captain Barb Northup truly exhibited "grace under pressure" at their meets. Their hard work and determination resulted in increased expertise on the balance beam, in floor exercises, on the uneven parallel bars and in vaulting.

This is the first year that W.S.C. has had an inter-colegiate hockey team. Despite the newness of the team, W.S.C. hockey is making a name for itself.

The team was allotted approximately ten thousand dollars to get under way. Most of the money went to buy new equipment for the team. The rest of the money went to buy valuable ice time.

The team, led by Captain Jerry Twohig and instructed by Coach Mike Holubowich, finished the season with five wins and seven losses.

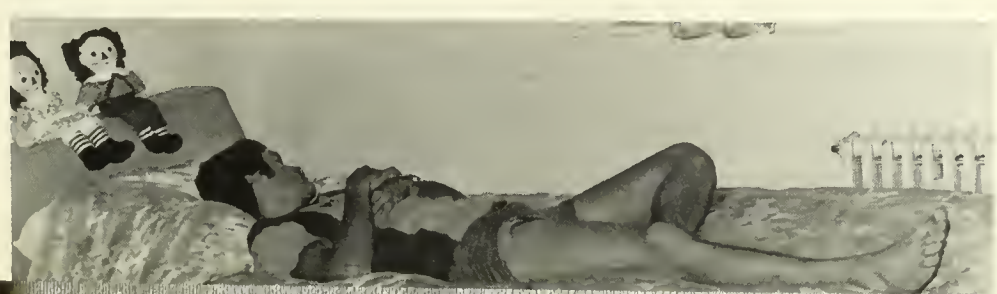
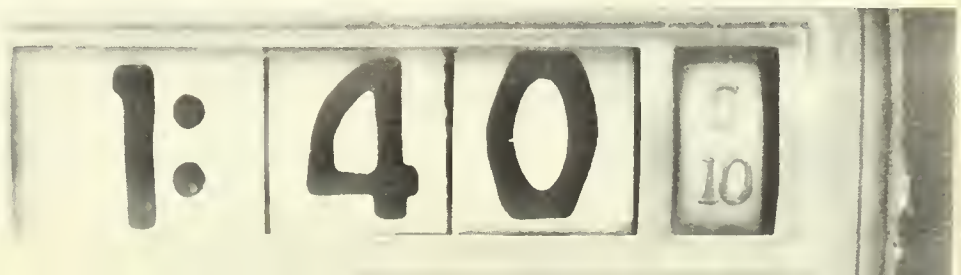
LIFE AT W. S. C.

DOES HAVE . . .

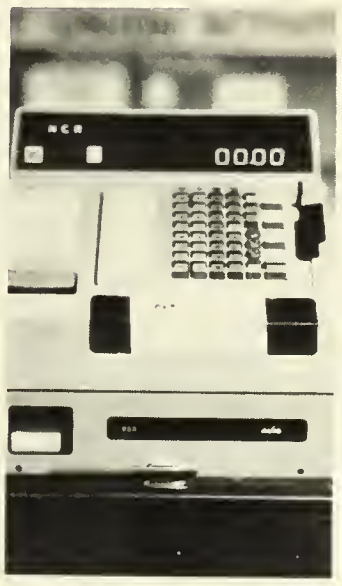
ITS INTERESTING MOMENTS.





FINE ARTS

FINE ARTS FESTIVAL LAUNCHED WITH BALLOONS, FEATURES EXHIBITS, PLAYS, PERFORMANCES.



What is Art? Thousands have asked the question, but for every opinion, there is always a differing view.
The editors have included a Fine Arts Section this year in an attempt to consolidate the random coverage given to the arts in previous annuals. It is also hoped that a single section will emphasize the importance of art, music, drama, dance etc. and to show the influence of all artistic achievements on the student body.

The Spring Festival's events this year were both numerous and entertaining.
All departments combined efforts to provide variety across the wide spectrum of possible activities.
Held from April thirteenth through the twenty-ninth, the festival included a performance by the Rhode Island Dance Repertory Company, Francis Fortier — violinist, Lilly Dumont — pianist, and a presentation by Rozaline Schneider — New York film critic.

The most spectacular event of the festival was the "Launch" at which art majors paraded with wierd costumes and self-constructed kites. The best part of the Launch . . .

TANGO

The first major production of the year was Slawomir Mrozek's Tango. Director Frank Mello mixed just enough seriousness with absurdity, and the result was a hilarious stab at politics, sex, freedom, and philosophy. The cast was outstanding and it will be a long time before old, senile Uncle Eugene or the boorish Eddie are forgotten. Staring in the production were: Anne Martin, David Gosselin, Bill Walsh, Bill Roche, Dianne Bourgeois, Reginald Aubrey, and Kathy Van Vorse.

THEATRE ON THE AIR

The Radio Theater of Westfield State College is an extension of the Radio Club and Theater providing the public with literature in classical and contemporary forms.

Educational programs with literary merit can be entertaining or just entertaining literature can be educational.

The new club is providing experiences in theater using the radio medium. Radio Theater of W.S.C. also works jointly with WSKB, WTCC, and WFRC.

DRAMA
IN A NEW LIGHT

The purpose of the W.S.C. Readers' Theater is to provide an opportunity to present a concept in theater which is new to this community.

Its membership is open to all students interested in this goal. The Oral Interpretation Class of fall semester '74 staged one example of such a theater in their production "Man Read Naked".

Science fiction, jazz, poetry and fantasy played major roles in the February '75 QUATERNION, which was held in Dever Auditorium.

FANTASTICS

"Fantastics" was performed as a workshop in one act last year. It suceeded so well that it was produced as a major musical by the Music Theater Guild this year. A light musical comedy "Fantastics" was made even more enjoyable by the excellent acting and for the most part good vocal solos and harmonizing. Major roles were played by Laura Lezon, Zigmund Sieczkowski, Steven Harris, David Brown, Murray Schwartz, Mike McSweeney, Gary Hebert, and Sandy Tracky.

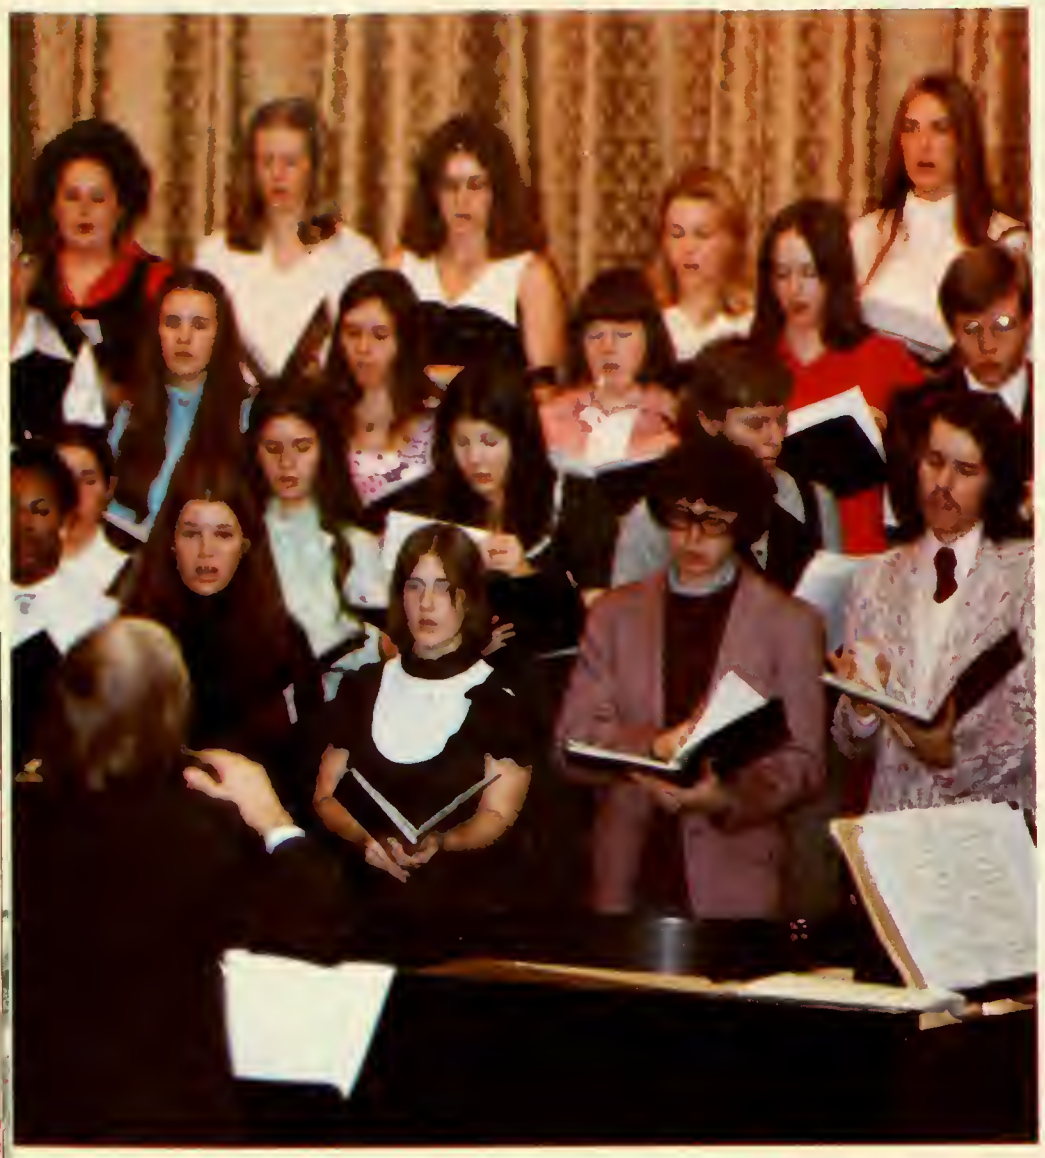
CHORALE

The Westfield State College Chorale, in it's second year, has participated in two choral festivals, and has conducted several tours at many local colleges and public schools. Composed of thirty-eight auditioned members and directed by Dr. Prindle, the chorale sings predominantly classical, Renaissance style music such as: "Jubilate Deo," and Bach Chorales.



The Westfield State College String Ensemble performs music by Correlli and Vivaldi both to the campus and the Westfield community. The ensemble, which is open to new members presently boasts eight members. The instruments include piano, violin, viola, cello, and bass.

String Ensemble

The Westfield Stage College Chorale directed by Mr. Prindle is open to all students but requires an audition for eligibility. The Chorale features a high quality, serious music such as a Bach Motet entitled "Jesus Priceless Treasure" and Jean Berger's "Brazilian Psalm". Mr. Prindle's own compositions are often sung by the group. Each spring the Chorale embarks on a tour which takes them to many area schools. Next Spring, with a Bicentennial theme in mind the Chorale plans to tour Philadelphia and Washington, D.C.

What can be said about the art of Ken Manzer?
Ken Manzer turned Dever Auditorium into a romantic musical wonderland with his October piano concert.
He completly captured the mood of the audience by playing such songs as "The First Time Ever I Saw Your face" and "Killing Me Softly."
He continued with two medlies, one by Gershwin and one by Bacharach.
The Bacharach medley ending the performance with "The World Is A Circle".
The audience eagerly awaited every song, every chord, every note that came from the musical master as he gave a performance which left everyone in awe, begging for more.

MEN'S CHOIR

The Men's Choir which often performs with the Women's Glee Club sings "show tunes" such as "Fiddler on the Roof," lighter themes such as "Happy", and contemporary ones, such as "The Way We Were." Most themes are arranged by L. Kenneth Manzer who directs and accompanies the group on the piano.

Just a little note

The Women's Glee Club and Men's Choir consist of a total of seventy students. No auditions are required to join the group. Both the Women's and Men's Clubs are open to everyone on campus. Both groups perform independently of and accompanied by each other.

CAN'T AFFORD THE CUT

And the small rebellion in me stretched and grew 'til it seemed that there would be an outbreak at any moment and I would have to leave the room.
He up front spoke fast words
while I drew doodles in the margins and thought out through the window to quite another place.
And he scratched screeching diagrams,
while I tried to hear a distant muffled tune, and my shackled spirit screamed to up and dance to it and shock them all.
But no, I did not move,
I have asked for this confinement,
I have accepted this self sacrifice,
I have deemed it necessary;
and yet it still feels awkward at times like this,
and the balance again seems a little tilted.

Tom Sawyer

Persona Literary Magazine dedicates itself to publishing literary manuscripts and art work by students of Westfield. Four cash prizes are awarded each year in recognition of poetry, art, and cover design. This year Tom Sawyer was awarded the poetry prize, George Chartier the prose prize, Elaine Tormanian the art prize, and E. Lee Connolly the cover design award. The magazine is published at the close of the year.

TEKOA, A DEDICATED ORGANIZATION

Put a bunch of dedicated, creative, enthusiastic, and slightly crazy people together and chances are you will discover one of the better ways to publish a yearbook. The entire Tekoa staff worked diligently throughout the year to bring the campus the best annual they could create . . . it meant long hours at times until 4:00 a.m. . . . it meant missing parties, sleep, classes, and other meetings . . . but most importantly it meant that the staff cared enough to devote their time to a publication which would record the history of Westfield State for another year, hand down to posterity the unique moments which distinguished 1975 from other years, and to preserve the memories that all future alumni will cherish.

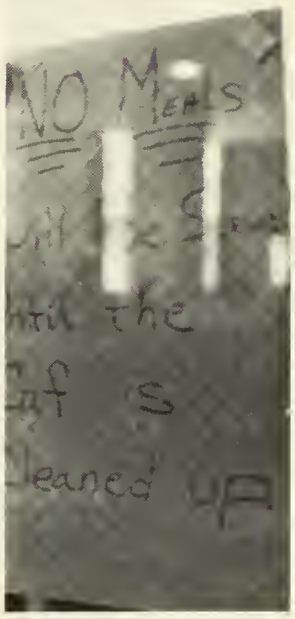
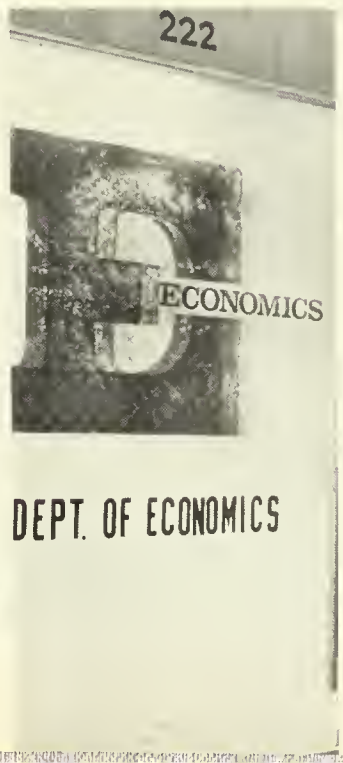
ECONOMICS SOCIETY





The growing awareness of our Nation's economic problems has caused a renewed interest in the Economics Society. Students have gained interest in the society because of the many job opportunities that are open to economics majors. Careers in education, industry, and government are just a few possibilities. The society's sixty members with the aid of their advisor, Dr. Russ Bellico, have been instrumental in bringing various speakers to the campus — namely, Jack Anderson speaking on Washington D.C., Sam Bowles and Steve Welch, "A Radical Approach to Economics," and Dr. Gerald Gunderson, "Energy Crisis in Retrospect."

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

The Freshman Class, having only been recently organized by President Ann Flaherty, Vice President Lisa Moody, Secretary Mary Bradley, and Treasurer Kathy Shea has sponsored a few financially successful events in the short time they have had to work in. Between running a hot dog and soda concession at the home basketball games, selling carnations on Valentine's Day, and St. Patrick's Day, and co-sponsoring a Red Letter Dance with the Junior Class, they have raised over$450 for the Freshman Class Treasury. Their plans for the future involve sponsoring more dances.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

The Sophomore class, headed by President Don Longo has sponsored several events during the year. The traditional Slave Day was one of their events. They also sponsored a Kaki Boom Dance, and the last dance of the year appropriately entitled The Last Dance. The Sophomore Class' other officers include Vice Pres. Dennis Call, Treas. Nancy O'Leary, and Sec. Brian Hull.

TRIALS AND WOES

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The Class of 1976 saw a fantastically successful financial year. Lead by President Larry Dutra, Vice President Chris Loud, Treasurer Donna Manello, and Secretary Janice Hetman, the treasury jumped from $300 to $1,900. The events the Junior Class sponsored met with much success. Beginning with the traditional Junior-Freshman Picnic, the class' events included the Halloween Costume Party, the highly enjoyable Winter Ball which, uniquely enough, featured a three course dinner, a January Dance, and a very popular plant sale.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Graduation was the key word for the Seniors this year as they went about raising funds to cover the costs through various beer parties and other events. Second semester brought us closer to Graduation with the traditional "Days" parties held on the sixth floor Ely. The Senior Ball at Elmcrest Country Club and a special week of Senior Activities dominated our final weeks at W.S.C. as we drew closer and closer to Sunday May 18, 1975.

HEARTBREAK HOTEL . . .

. . . better known as No Tell Motel and officially called the New Dorm has survived its first full year as a co-educational dormitory. What distinguishes it from the rest of the dorms on campus? Mattresses flying from third story windows, water fights, underwear flags, streakers, 2:00 a.m. fire drills, and shining moons dotting the windows of various sections. Does it sound like everyone else's dormitory? Well, the dorm with the built-in keg does have some unique qualities. If you find yourself serenaded by the Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy in the early morning hours, or if you answer the phone and you find yourself talking to Ernestine in her search for Vito, you'll know you're in the New Dorm.

DICKINSON HAS A SUCCESSFUL, ENJOYABLE YEAR

ECOLOGY

Dickinson Hall residents have had a productive, rewarding, and entertaining year. A study room converted into an exercise area containing mats and equipment sparked an enthusiastic shape up fitness group. With excess dorm damage fees, the dorm council voted to purchase a new piano, which is frequently used, and to allocate funds for refurbishing the study rooms. These two study areas were painted by residents, new curtains were purchased and floors were carpeted, a nice learning atmosphere for everyone! Girls enjoy life in this dorm, according to Gary Hodge, the dorm director. There is a low theft rate, every one pays dorm damage fees which are often turned in to make new purchases. The position of Resident Assistant is often shunned in other dorms, at Dickinson this year, a record number of girls applied. Gary attributes this to the pleasant attmosphere developed here.

Davis Hall has established itself as a source of tradition. Take for example the tradition of fights — fist fights, water fights, section fights And didn't Davis establish the Party? W.S. C.'S. ATTITUDE TOWARD NATURE

One of the more active groups on campus, the Biology Club is open to all students interested in Biology and its related fields. The Club sponsored many speakers and activities. Dr. Webb (S.U.N.Y.) presented "Man's Attitude Toward Nature — An Ecologist's View." Dr. Silverstein (S.U.N.Y.) presented a lecture entitled "Chemical Communication Among Organisms." The Club also sponsored an excursion to the Nantucket Whaling Museum. Interested Biology majors also took part in the Eastern Colleges Science Convention. The Club has already spent much time arranging various, interesting activities for next year. This organization is a worthwhile asset for the college community because it gives the student insight into the world around him and encourages the individual to take an active part in his/her environment.

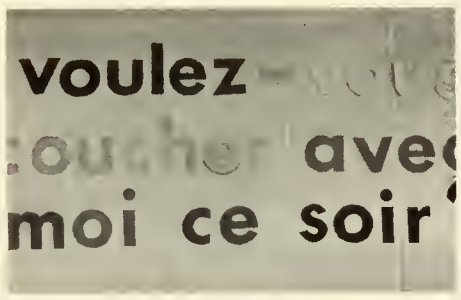
STUDENT NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION



The Student National Education Association is the first professional organization prospective teachers are able to belong to. Affiliated with the Massachusetts Teachers Association and the National Education Association, S.N.E.A./Mass offers students the opportunity to play a role in what could easily be the biggest, most exciting change in education today . . . Massachusetts Education Reform. Members are encouraged to make use of the valuable services S.N.E.A. offers them such as research information, publications, senior handbook, and job listings. S.N.E.A.'s aims on campus include education conferences, programs, speakers, rap sessions, and community involvement.

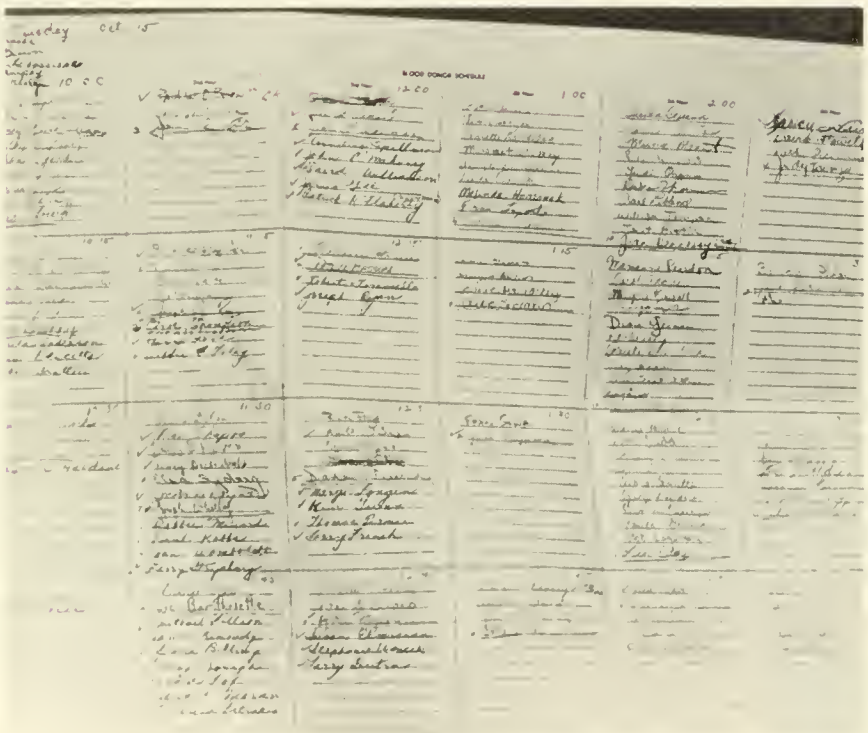
CIRCLE K MEANS SERVICE



With the advent of the spring sun, girls again this year, flocked to the Scanlon Roof to catch the rays and get an early start on summer tans. The administration is concerned because the refuse situation on the roof is becoming a problem. Perhaps they should install rubbish cans and water fountains.

Circle K is a service organization composed of a few hard working individuals.
They organized the Bloodmobile drive several times
each year.
Members also participate individually
in community services.
A dance marathon, sponsored by members,
had to be cancelled
due to lack of participants.
Unfortunately membership is small and therefore hampers major club activities.
Another project, selling Rathskeller tee shirts,
was a financial disaster.

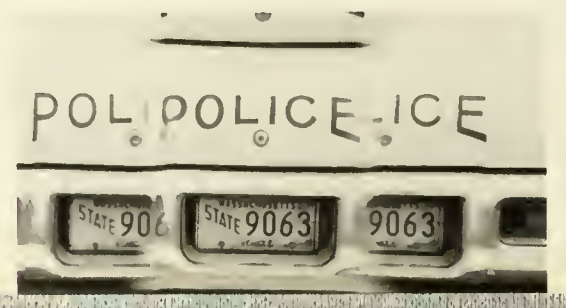
SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish majors and minors on campus not only have the opportunity to learn about Spanish Culture during classtime, but after class as well by being members of the Spanish Club. These students are offered opportunities to participate in cultural events, conversation and fellowships not possible in the classroom. Under the advisorship of Maria Maris, the Spanish Club has been active in sponsoring cultural activities at the college. These events have included: La Tuna Universitaria de Barcelona (a group of musicians from Spain), a film entitled The Exterminating Angel, and a program of Puerto Rican dancing children. Members of the Spanish club committee include: Joanne Dixon and Diane Mastandrea as co-chairmen, Coleen Whalen, and Ron Gertowski.

FRENCH CLUB

Officers of the "Cercle Francais" Pres. Leona Doyle, Vice Pres. Kathy Dunn, Se
Lindsay Lamoureux, Tres. Ellen Anderson.

The main objective of the "Cercle Francais" is to provide it's members with social and cultural experiences valuable to language enrichment and learning. As a result, it is hoped that its members continue fostering better relations with French speaking communities and American-French communities. Under the advisement of Dr. Matteo Rovetto the French Club members attended "Le Roi Se Meurt" a French play by Ionesco. They presented a French Soiree which consisted of skits, poems, and music. They also sponsored a speaker from the University of Massachusetts. All of the activities help to better acquaint the club members with French customs.



Westfield's campus is very beautiful and it is enhanced by lovely scenic areas in the surrounding countryside. Cobble Mountain is often visited by students looking for fresh air and a change of scene.

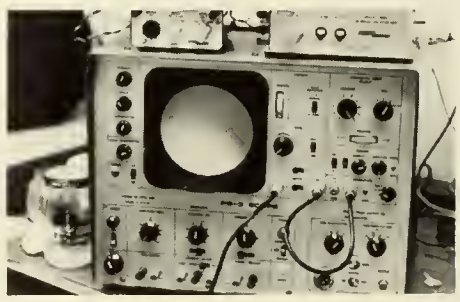
PSYCHOLOGY CLUB TRAVELS AND SPONSORS LECTURES AND EVALUATIONS

The function of the Psychology Club is to increase the intellectual capacities of students in the discipline of Psychology. According to President Barry Dennis, students should join the club because membership enlightens students to different realms of Psychology which can and will be valuable to deciding future vocations. Barry continues: "We begin each year as a tabula rasa, and therefore request and encourage student's ideas for activities to be held throughout the year." This year's activities included a trip to Gould Farm, a half-way house commune in Monterey, the Wheeler Clinic, Austin-Riggs Psychiatric Hospital, and a trip to Boston to see Dr. Buscolgia, author of the famous love tapes. The Psychology Club also conducts yearly evaluations of the Psychology department. The club also sponsored a lecture by Al Presso, the founder of Psychomotor Therapy. Another activity sponsored by the Club was a debate concerned with the relevant and controversial topic of Sexism.



PHILOSPHY CLUB

The Philosophy Club was founded with the idea of enabling students and faculty with an interest or a background in philosophy to participate in discussions of a cultural and philosophical nature. Their annual Philosophy Colloquia included events of culture, such as piano and vocal recitals involving persons from Smith College and Philosophy, such as presentations of philosophical papers. This year Mark Hagopian, professor of Political Science at A.I.C. presented his Critique of Individualistic Series of Political Obligation. In a Symposia on Science in the Prophetic Tradition, Westfield State's Michael Russo presented two papers. Also of Westfield State, Robert McGuigan, professor of mathematics presented two papers Models in Philosophy of Mathematics. All papers delivered at the Philosophy Symposia are tape recorded, transcribed, and eventually published in Westfield's journal of philosophy, Westfield Studies.

OUTING CLUB PROVIDES ACTIVE SCHEDULE

The New Dorm went co-ed this year. One wing was devoted to male living space.

The Outing Club of W.S.C. was established in order to introduce members and new comers to a variety of outdoor recreational activities. Their basic interests lie in camping, hiking, and back packing, but they also are interested in snow shoeing, cross country skiing, and canoeing. The Outing Club has been in every New England state plus New York. The club sponsors an event every weekend plus three day weekends and week long vacations. In order to keep the Outing Club together, they meet every summer around the fourth of July. The executive board includes John Liptak, Robert Norton, Rosemary O'Brien, and Kathy Lenz.

Lambda Iota Tau is the International Honor Society in English which was founded at Westfield State College in 1970. Lambda is open to all junior and senior English majors and minors who have had at least twelve semester hours in English, who have achieved a 3.0 average in their English courses and at least a 2.75 overall academic average. In addition to meeting these standards, a student must submit a creative or critical literary effort which must be accepted by faculty judges. This year, Lambda has sponsored colloquiums in censorship and "pop" poets. Lambda's speakers this year have included Earl Caldwell, David Manning White, and Richard Wordsworth.

PHI ALPHA THETA, KAPPA OMICRON

Kappa Omicron is the Westfield State College chapter of the International History Society, Phi Alpha Theta. Membership into the society is by invitation only. According to chapter advisor, Dr. Frederick Harling, students must have completed at least eighteen hours in History with better than a "B" average in two thirds of their remaining courses. The society sponsors informal meetings to discuss historical themes. The members of Kappa Omicron also participate in local, regional and international conventions at which their papers are read. In addition, Kappa Omicron competes for chapter of the year and prize paper awards. This years officers were president — Theresa Harrison, vice president — Debbie Sansouey, treasurer — Martin Fitzgerald, and secretary — Terry Dowell.

The Weight Lifting Club or more appropriately the Health and Service Club was organized for interested students who wish to culture the body as well as the mind. According to president, Steve Fetherman, the club was organized to realize the physical potential of its members. The members are in the process of reorganizing the club so that next year they will be involved in competitions. The club members along with advisor Gary Hodge are hoping for more involvement from all members of the college community. Offices this year were president — Steve Fetherman, vice president — Bill Sullivan, secretary — Jean Moura, treasurer — Joan Moura, and Advisor — Gary Hodge.

THE ART OF KARATE

Led by Sensai (chief instructor) John Piccolomini, the Karate Club, which is not Student Senate funded, is made up of people interested in learning the art of Karate. According to one member, karate helps the individual build confidence in him/her self, acquire oneness of mind and body and acquire extreme body control. The class drills in various Kata (forms) and techniques of the martial art of Gashu-ru, Japanese Karate. All the club members are extremely skilled individuals who have been awarded many trophies for their excellance in the art of Karate.

WHAT IS COLLEGE LIFE LIKE?

The purposes of the Third World Organization are to promote interracial understanding and airing of views, to encourage social activities among the membership and the college community, to provide information on the black experience to the college community and to conduct programs which will carry out the above purposes. Black History Week in February is sponsored by the Third World and celebrated annually at W.S.C. through plays, lectures, films, art displays and dance performances as well as other activities that serve to promote the purposes of the organization. With growth in the membership of the organization activity has increased and numerous activities and benefits have been planned for the future. The Third World Room is located in the basement of Ely, room 002.

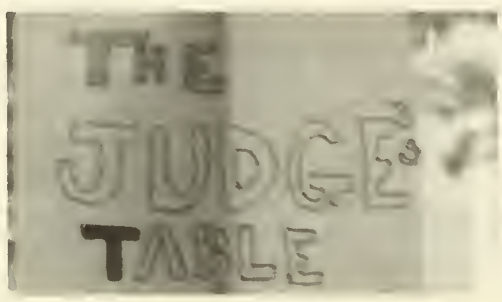
"You're on!" That was the official word from Washington D.C. after 7 years of struggling to get an F.M. station on campus. According to W.S.K.B.'s station manager, Phil Lewis, the most important function of the station is "to improve campus communication." Besides playing music, the station broadcasts news, special events, Roving Reporter interviews and monthly talks from President Randolph. Dr. Ted Scott and Phil Shepardson served as advisors for the radio station. Mr. Shepardson stated that "the station has unlimited license which means we can broadcast 24 hours a day. How much more we expand depends upon the personel involved." So everybody out there, Tune In!

SLAVE DAY



An immediate impression of Slave Day from one freshman was, "If I didn't participate, I thought I'd get a swirly." A swirly is defined as getting one's hair washed in a toilet. Auctioneers Don Longo and Dean Burt turned Scanlon's table tops into a slave market. Among those who showed off their physical and intellectual prowess were two girls who did the bump, two males who flexed their beautiful bodies, and the highest priced slave, Maria Barot who delighted the market with her conversational Spanish. The afternoon trade had one bright spot — a mooner. The bidding rose until he flashed a front mooner. The bidding dropped to 5 ¢ .

Queries of Who's Chris? and Where is he going? were heard all over campus in the days preceding Chris' Bon Voyage Party. But whether you knew that the party was for Chris Columbus or not didn't matter because from 9-1 the Student Union was kept alive with people dancing, singing and chugging beer. Billy White provided the entertainment and once again he proved to be the hit of the evening. Not even broken beer taps which caused long delays in getting served could dampen the enthusiasm that characterized this Happy Hour!

The Student Council For Exceptional Children is a service organization made up of people interested in the field of special education. According to Rick McInerny, president of C.E.C., the function of the organization is "to increase public awareness and acceptance of exceptional children; to assist in the development of professional growth and professional standards for future teachers; provide service to children in the community; and to facilitate an interchange among disciplines." When asked why he joined C.E.C., Jim Dillon responded "Every year C.E.C. has a national convention. This year the convention will be in Los Angeles. Not only do you get the opportunity to see and hear many well known lecturers and pick up material, you can also set up job interviews at the convention. Being a senior, this could be quite advantageous for me."

Bible Study

The Bible Study Group is an organization made up of committed Christians who believe that the solution to all man's problems are found in the person of Jesus Christ. The group is one of the most active groups on campus enabling each student and faculty member the clear opportunity to find truth. "Empty Pockets" and a lecture by Josh McDowell were two activities sponsored by the Bible Study Group this year.

S.E.C.S. OFFERS VALUABLE SERVICE

Davis Hall sponsored a private St. Patrick's Day Party. People enjoyed the beer and festivities which included painting various appendages green! It would not be appropriate to include photographs, we'll let you wonder why.

S.E.C.S. is a Sex Education and Counseling Service available to Westfield State College Students. The purpose of this group is to dispense information to fellow students who have problems or questions related to sex such as: abortion, venereal disease, contraceptive devises, problem pregnancies, sexual identity, gay awareness, and community services, where to go for pregnancy tests, pap smears, and V.D. testing. The information concerning these areas is made available through well trained students, films, rap sessions, debates and lectures.

CONCERTS

Dance Marathons have become an enjoyable way to raise money for various worthy causes such as the March of Dimes. The last marathon held this spring failed because of small attendance. One couple danced for several hours. The marathon was cancelled due to lack of interest. This is just another tribute to apathy at Westfield State College.

Deodorant supplies dwindled in the town of Westfield as girls were forced to omit showers during a week long sewer back up in Scanlon Hall. Care for a swim in the mail room?

Campus-wide concern about the quality of education at Westfield State caused Student Senate to fiercely struggle for faculty evalutions. After a long battle, fifty-eight faculty agreed to be evaluated by their students. Senators believe future evaluations will be more successful. Senate established a committee to consider the reorganization of the three education departments. A final decision wasn't reached by the close of Spring semester.

STUDENT SENATE AWARDS BANQUET

Chez Josephs has become a traditional setting for the annual Senate Awards Banquet. And well it should because the meal and atmosphere are unexcelled. Providing jazz and rock, the band entertained the dancers who bumped, jitter-bugged, jived, moved or bounced (halters). A few of the surprises like bare feet, revealing dresses, and two professors of the year broke tradition.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE!

Partying is one thing seniors have learned how to do very well during the past four years. Most people found any excuse good enough for a party, but all of the countdown days parties were held in the Sixth floor, Ely. Just as there is always beer, there are always certain, shall we say, faithful partyers. One of these groups, known as the "Balls", is pictured below. Class officers Marcelo, Kit, Zig, and Barb deserve credit for the huge early morning clean-up jobs they completed.

ALL COLLEGE PICNIC

Salada

Due to budgetary problems and complaints from faculty about exam studying time, the All College Picnic was shortened this spring and two days of activities were presented. Rain on Friday evening forced the picnic, concerts, and movies indoors. Saturday dawned sunny and the whole campus turned out for a relaxing day of parties, concerts, games, drinking and eating.

After the evenings festivities were completed, some of the more sober individuals were able to watch the movies shown into the wee hours of the morning. Credit should be given to the hard working Student Union Committees whose efforts produced a great weekend for everyone.

Problems which distressed most seniors during the year were related to the economy. Education majors faced an over-flowing job market. Graduates left without summer job prospects. Seniors have loans to repay, some are getting married, others don't know what they want to do. Companies are not hiring. As the graduates leave they face a tough world. Perhaps future years will be more affluent, but for now, it looks doubtful.

Although attendance varied and was often small, those who participated really enjoyed themselves. It is hoped that this small beginning will be the start of a traditional senior week.

The executive board for the Class of '75 was the first to initiate Senior Week. It was a planned week of activities including parties, a beach trip, Italian night, the Sophomore class sponsored breakfast, organized evenings at local bars, and of course, graduation.

Students were required for the first time in several years to bring up their trays. The Food Service Committee emphasized the overwhelming expense of daily cafeteria clean up. The soda machine was turned off and several meals were delayed until all trays were cleared away. Although there are a few slobs who still leave their trays, most people bring them up.

Bad days do occur. One student teacher got up and proceeded to spill coffee all over her pants. While rushing down the stairs after changing, she cleverly managed to drop twenty-six BINGO cards and ninty-nine multicolored disks. In addition, her notebook popped open and she chased lesson plans down the staircase. Upon arriving at her car she discovered her engine was stolen. When she walked into school at noontime, her co-op chided, well what's your excuse?"

The students at Juniper Park receive an exceptional education. Just think, after six years they have had thirty different teachers!!!

Scanlon Hall girls are well prepared to handle fire drills. Early this spring two freak fires caused quite a disturbance in that dorm. One started in a vent near a laundry room, the other in a garbage truck which was parked behind the caf.

Senior Ball

And smashed they were as the result of an open bar at the Elmcrest Country Club
in Longmeadow.
Guests managed to quench thirsts even with a mobbed bar and refreshment lines.
"Chrisma" entertained in the unique double dancing area.
There will never be another affair at the Elmcrest because too many people thought too much of the bud vases. Police didn't appreciate missing caps and badges either.

SENIOR VARIETY SHOW

Last minute planning, one dress rehearsal, and a little beer finally resulted in the Senior Variety Show. Acts ranged from folk songs, dancers, and singers to comedy and monologues. The "strutters" took first prize in the competition. But Phil Lewis as the "little man" proved to be the hit of the show as he clowned around intermittently between acts.

The traditional processional was thrown out the doors of Dever as seniors danced into Convocation to the tunes of Steely Dan. Teacher competency awards were distributed by Dr. Robert Saisi and Prof. Joseph Comerford. Fifteen wisdon and merit awards were presented to very deserving seniors.

CARE TO DANCE? COME TO CONVOCATION!

The Class of 1975 was graduated from Westfield State College on the eighteenth of May at two-thirty in the afternoon. A beautiful day combined with the previous weeks activities bolstered high spirits and happy farewells. Speakers Mr. William Kirk and Ms. Nicki Giovanni delivered their memorable words to a thoughtful group of seniors. Marcelo Pantig, Class President, related his experiences at Westfield and wished that all seniors would regard graduation as a step forward toward the fruition of lifetime goals. Deborah Greene sang "You'll Never Walk Alone." Seniors departed with a variety of emotions that makes them individuals yet a sense of belonging which will always be remembered.

GRADUATION A SUNNY SUCCESS

Possessed with years of experience and the creativity
that stands for American Yearbook Company, Don Lendry,
our representative, has inspired
Tekoa '75 to a very successful year.
The entire staff
expresses their deepest appreciation for Don's excellent service and the quality yearbook which his company produces.

team effort

When business relationships become friendships,
goals are accomplished with ease.
The Tekoa '75 staff is indebted to Dan Koziol and Hausamann Studio for their cheerful helpful attitude and unfailing service.
Dan has provided classes in photography and darkroom techniques, personal coverage whenever requested, and emergency service for those fatal deadlines.
Many thanks for your great contribution to Tekoa '75.

CONTRIBUTORS

During the course of my studies at
Westfield State College,
I have had the pleasant opportunity to associate with dedicated, empathetic, and knowledgeable faculty and students.
I am grateful to these fine individuals because they have helped to make my life more valuable and my vision clearer.

It is unfortunate that more college students do not have the same feelings.
The Tekoa 1975 staff has undoubtedly helped to dissolve the situation by its dedication and total commitment to the production of this fine annual.
Our staff grew very close this year as their creativity, energy, and abilities merged to form an excellent yearbook.
I hope you have enjoyed Tekoa '75.
I believe it contains many improvements and a greater variety of pictures, information, art, special effects, and candids than have ever been included in previous books.
The Crazy Line was difficult to complete but a very enjoyable aspect of the book for the staff to work on.

Next year is going to be filled with reflections of the past, problems of the present, and hopes for the future.
It is my most fervent wish that those who read Tekoa will not only realize the problems we faced, but also the school's vast potential for improvement in 1976.
Apathy can be crushed, it is up to you.
Can you meet the challenge?
